Bustling Togoshi-Ginza Shopping Street

One Hundred Scenic Spots in Shinagawa 79

An everyday scene overflowing with warmth

Togoshi-Ginza Shopping Street—the longest shopping street in Tokyo. Many of the shops lining this 1.3-kilometer-long street have kept their traditional facades, providing an air of intimacy. Beloved by the locals, this shopping street begs to be photographed.

One Point Advice

If you focus your camera on the "Togoshi-Ginza" banner above the people on the street, the people become less central to the photo and you can more clearly capture the feeling of bustle along the entire shopping street.

A street-level railroad crossing—another rare sight today

Osaki - The Urban Subcenter

One Hundred Scenic Spots in Shinagawa 50

A beautiful night scene that captivates the viewer

Officially designated as a new subcenter in Tokyo, the area in front of Osaki Station is undergoing rapid development. New tower constructions such as Ohsaki New City, Gate City Ohsaki, and ThinkPark create a dynamic and stunning urban landscape unique to the city.

One Point Advice

When taking photos through glass, put your lens right up against the glass. To capture the beautiful night sky just before it becomes completely dark, we recommend you take the photo within 30 minutes of sunset.

The Osaki urban subcenter undergoing rapid development

Kodomo-no-mori Park

One Hundred Scenic Spots in Shinagawa 16

Let's go play with dinosaurs!

This hugely popular park features nine concrete dinosaurs in all shapes and sizes. Children have a blast scrambling up and down the ancient reptiles. Your happy pictures of these colorful dinosaurs will draw everyone's attention.

One Point Advice

Rather than trying to capture the entire dinosaur, we recommend that you get up close to the dinosaur and photograph it on an angle. Adding people to your picture will also give the viewer a sense of the dinosaur's size.

"Monster Park" is loved by all

Shinagawa Aquarium

One Hundred Scenic Spots in Shinagawa 106

The mystery and brilliance of life

Creatures of the sea swim gracefully through water saturated with light—picture perfect. But watch the scene transform at feeding time! The calm waters heave with activity, and even the sleepy eyed sea turtle shows it's a force to be reckoned with.

One Point Advice

The key to capturing a beautiful scene is to stand under the tunnel tank where you can catch the dappled light and take your picture before the water is churned up by the feeding frenzy.

Feeding time is 15:15 on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. (Note: Subject to change)

Kamome Bridge and the Keihin Canal

One Hundred Scenic Spots in Shinagawa 03

A nostalgic sunset

At sunset the western sky is tinged with a rosy blush. You forget the metropolis around you as the hushed silence pulls you in. A magical scene that is gone in an instant. But with your camera you can capture it forever.

One Point Advice

You can add depth to your picture by framing the sky, canal, and bridge from the bridge's main tower side. If you feel the picture is a little washed out, adjust the color saturation using the camera app on your smart device.

Kamome Bridge under a blue sky—a different kind of beauty

Shinagawa's Seasonal Calendar

A prosperous town from ancient times, Shinagawa hosts events throughout the year that let you experience the city's long history and bountiful nature. Come and enjoy events that celebrate the Seasons of Shinagawa.

AR Install the kokosil app onto your smart device to enjoy the AR (augmented reality) feature with photos showing the AR symbol. See P.18 for details.

March Shinagawa Waterside Flower Road and Dock AR
(March) 「しながわ海道と船だまり」(3月)

Come and visit the dock where fishing boats and houseboats drop anchor, and take a walk along the pretty waterside road festooned with seasonal flowers. Perfect for a brisk walk or a leisurely stroll.

January Shinagawa Shrine New Year Mochi-tsuki Festival
(January 2) 「品川神社 新春餅つき大会」(1月2日)

This is a popular event where the shrine staff and visitors together make about 50 kg of mochi (sticky rice cakes). The mochi is then served to visitors who have come to pray at the shrine. Musical accompaniment at the shrine adds to the festive New Year atmosphere, making visitors feel warm and welcome.

Nishikoiyama Illumination
(February) 「西恋山イルミネーション」(2月)

Close to 30,000 LED lights vividly illuminate the area in front of the station to celebrate Valentine's Day. An ideal photo spot for couples, and events for families and children too.

April December Meguro River Cherry Trees AR
(April and December) 「目黒川の桜」(4月・12月)

A glorious sight—about 800 cherry blossom trees in full bloom for nearly four kilometers along the Meguro River. Drop in at one or more of the many little shops in the area or join the crowds partaking in the annual ritual of hanami (cherry blossom viewing).

April

Shinagawa Canal Festival
(Early April) 「しながわ運河まつり」(4月上旬)

This waterside festival held in Higashi-Shinagawa Sea Park is a popular and favorite spring event for many. The gorgeous cherry blossoms are a sight to see.

May

Mayaji Temple Flower Festival
(May) 「摩耶寺花まつり」(5月)

Mayaji Temple has the Mayado where Maya, the birth mother of Buddha, is enshrined. Local residents and children gather here to celebrate the birth of Buddha.

June

Ebara Shrine Annual Festival AR

(Early June) 「荏原神社 例大祭」(6月上旬)

Known as the Shinagawa Tenno-sai, this festival has been held since Edo times. A unique festival where portable mikoshi shrines are carried into the sea and transported through the waters. Lots of little stalls are also set up in the shrine grounds.

August Yogyokuin Nyoraiji Temple Sento Kuyo (Thousand Lantern Festival) (August 13) AR

「養玉院如来寺 千灯供養」(8月13日)

Surrounded by beautiful green trees, the temple is decorated with more than 1,000 lanterns, giving it an atmosphere of tranquility that soothes the soul.

June Shinagawa Shrine Annual Festival (Early June)

「品川神社 例大祭」(6月上旬)

This popular festival draws large crowds every year. Seeing the huge mikoshi carried into the shrine and paraded up and down the shrine's steep 53 steps is an experience that should not be missed.

July Tennoz Isle Summer Festival (Late July to Early August)

「天王洲アイル夏祭り」(7月下旬～8月上旬)

This large summer festival is divided into four separate areas where visitors can enjoy many different attractions such as a beer garden, stalls, and live music.

July Kamishinmei Tenso Shrine Tanabata Festival (Early July)

「上神明天祖神社 七夕祭り」(7月上旬)

The "Hakuja no Hokora" (Shrine of the White Snake) in the shrine grounds is thought to be a source of mystical energy. The Tanabata decorations are beautifully illuminated throughout the festival, giving the shrine a magical atmosphere.

August Oi Dontaku Summer Festival

(Late August) 「大井どんたく夏祭り」(8月下旬)

The space in front of Oimachi Station plays host to a music festival and dance contest by day and by night is transformed into a huge Bon Odori dance floor. Visitors can also enjoy delicious exotic and local dishes.

August Candle Night in Yashio (Early August)

「キャンドルナイトin八潮」(8月上旬)

This event was started to bring the people of the city together as well as to provide support for 2011 Great East Japan Earthquake recovery efforts and pray for the souls of the disaster victims. The many twinkling candles lined up along the canal transform the waterfront into a scene from a fairy tale.

September

Meguro Sanma Festival

(Early September) 「目黒のさんま祭り」(9月上旬)

The festival celebrates the old tale of a feudal lord riding through Meguro getting his first taste of delicious sanma (Pacific saury). The flavorful fatty sanma—an autumn delicacy—are sourced from the tsunami affected port of Miyako in Iwate Prefecture and are grilled on the spot and handed out free to visitors.

November Autumn Leaves in Ikedayama Park (November) AR

「池田山公園の紅葉」(11月)

Ikedayama has recently gained a reputation as a place steeped in otherworldly energy. The park boasts a circular garden centered around a pond—known as a "glimpses of pond" style garden due to its multiple levels—where visitors can appreciate the beautiful surroundings that change with the seasons.

September Shinagawa Shukuba Festival (Late September)

「しながわ宿場まつり」(9月下旬)

The "Oirandochu" (procession of courtesans in full dress; held on Saturday evening) and the "Edofuzoku-gyoretsu" (parade of people dressed in costumes from the Edo Period; held on Sunday) are key attractions. Slip back in time to the Edo period and enjoy one of the largest festivals on the Shinagawa event calendar.

October Shinagawa Yume-Sanbashi (Free Passage) (Mid October)

「しながわ夢さん橋」(10月中旬)

A special train starting from and ending at Osaki Station, known as the Nonstop Yamanote Line Train, runs once a year just for this event. The event attracts over 70,000 people to the Osaki Station area over three days.

June December

Oharai/Chinowa-kuguri (End of June/End of Year)

「大祓・茅の輪くぐり」(6月末・年末)

Chinowa-kuguri (the tradition of walking through and around a large grass "chinowa" hoop in a figure eight as part of a purification ritual) is carried out at most shrines in the Shinagawa area. The ritual is used to pray for sound health, and attracts many visitors who want to cleanse themselves of impurities at the end of the year.
